VETERAN OF TWO WARS.

Late Capt. Grinstead Believed to Be Youngest Federal Commissioned Officer.

Captain J. P. Grinstead, for many years a resident of Wellington, died last Friday night at his home in Satem. Richardson county. Nebraska, aged skry-seven years. For the postive years Capt. Grinstead has been gradually failing in health, being a victim of the insidious disease known as creeping paralysis. Two years ago the malady became acute and since then has made steady progress, attended with suffering toward the last Capt. Grinstead was a soldier in two then has made steady progress, attended with suffering toward the last. Capt. Grinstead was a soldier in two wars, having fought for his country both in the war of the rehelition and in the Spanish-American war of hess. He was born in Metcalf county. Kentucky, June 15, 1846. His father was a union man, who was murdered in the early days of the war by Confederate guerillas. As a boy of fifteen young Grinstead joined a commany of home guards, in June of 1861, and upon the dislanding of the company enlisted, in November, 1861, in Co. E. 18th. Kentucky volunteers, with which he following spring. June 18, 1862, three days after his sixteenth birthday, he was commissioned as second lieutenant of his company, being it is believed the youngest man to receive an officer's commission on the union side during the war. January 10, 1863, immediately after the battle of Stone river, he was appointed to first lieutenant, and on September 15, 1864, he was raised to the captaincy of its company. He was in every battle and skirmish in which his regiment was engaged, including such sanguinary engagements as Shiloh, Stone River, Chickamauga, Missionary Ridge, and others hardly less important. The stead, of Falls City, Nebraska, were also present at the funeral.

The remains arrived here Monday morning, and were taken to the undertaking rooms of French, Hitchcock & Son. At 2:30 o'clock, with an escort of his old comrades of the GA. R Post, they were taken to Prairie Lawn cemetery, where they were given a soldier burial according to the ritual of the Grand Army, the service closing with the firing of three volices over the grave and the sounding of "taps" on the bugie by Miss. Vera Wonder, of the Ladies' hand. The Monitor Press, Weilington, Kansas, April 7, 1915.

Captain Grinstead was the father in law of Mrs. Eva. Hunt-Grinstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hunt, of this city.

skirmish in which his regiment was engaged. Including such sanginary engagements as Shiloh. Stone River. Chickamauya, Missionary Ridge, and others hardly less important. The close of the war found him engaged in recruiting a regiment of troops for state service against marauding bands of guerillas in eastern Kentucky.

Capt. Grinstead came to Wellington in the middle eighties. He served as city marshal here for a time and filled other local offices. When the Spanish American war broke out he offered his service to the state and was commissioned by Governor Leedy to raise a company. This he did, the company being mustered into the service as Company Lof the 21st Kansas. As senior capitain he was for the greater part of the time in command of one of the regimental battalions. He was mustered out with the regiment in December of that year, but in the following pring, when President McKinley called for 180,000 voluntros for service in the Philippines, he re-entered the services cas capitan of Company A. of the 22st U. S. volunteers, and with this command served two years in the islands, heling mustered out May 8, 1901.

Soon after his return to civil life he removed from Wellington to Salem, Nebraska, where two of his brothers were living at the time and where his home remained until his death.

Capt. Grinstead was twice married, his second wife, who survives him, aniece of the late Thos. Richardson. He also leaves two of his brothers were living at the time and where his home remained until his death.

—M. R. Martin was in Kansas City last week, looking after some business interests. He did not get into any trouble, as his son, Bennett, accompanied him, and saw to it that he was not run over by an automobile, or run down by a street car. Thinking probably that Bennett would not be able to keep tab upon his father, Mrs. Martin went down Sunday morning, and brought them both home, the same evening, safe and sound.

Mrs. Hannah Bergennager died at her home in Los Angeles, California, Wednesday, April 14, 1915, aged about 57 years, from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Bergenhager was a daughter of the late Frederick Kramer, who died near Oregon about 20 years ago. She left here for California nearly a quarter of a century ago, but has been tack several times to visit relatives and friends. Mrs. Fred Hoffmann and Mrs. John Oppenlander, residing east of Oregon, are her sisters, and her mother, Mrs. Sophia Kramer, aged about 82 years, is living in this city with her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Geil. We hope for a complete obituary of this estimable lady at an early date.

Three Ribs Broken.

Dr. S. B. Bragg, veterinarian, had the misfortune to have three of the lower ribs on the right side broken. Sunday forenoon last, April 18th. He was riding with John Foster in a buggy and single horse, going out to look after some horses for Mr. Foster. Hetween the bridge and Robert Walter's place, about two miles southeast of Oregon, they met Riley Huiatt, driving his car, when the horse became freightened and made a jump, throwing the buggy upon the side of the bluff, upsetting it and throwing both men out, with the result that Dr. Bragg sustained a fracture of three of the lower ribs on the right side, and one of Mr. Foster's hips was bruised some. No damage resulted to the horse or buggy.
